

Assistant Professor in the APA-Accredited Counseling Psychology Doctoral Program
Department of Psychology
Colorado State University

The Department of Psychology at Colorado State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in the APA-accredited Counseling Psychology doctoral program. This position is at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in August 2016. The position will be affiliated with the new training program in Addiction Counseling. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. from an APA-accredited Counseling or Clinical Psychology program or anticipate completing their Ph.D. by 06/30/2016. The successful candidate is also expected to demonstrate excellence in both teaching and research. The successful candidate will also have clinical and research experience and expertise in addictions or substance use disorders., The ideal candidate will be able to teach the courses offered in the Addiction Counseling program and be currently conducting research in the field of addictions or substance use disorders and be licensed or license-eligible in the state of Colorado. The expected start date for the position is August 15, 2016.

The Counseling Psychology program has been APA-accredited since 1970 and currently consists of 8 full-time faculty members and about 50 doctoral students. More information on all aspects of the Counseling Psychology Program can be found on the program's website: <http://www.colostate.edu/Depts/Psychology/counseling/>. The new Addiction Counseling Program is housed in Counseling Program.

For full consideration, materials must be received by Sunday, November 29, 2015, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit application material: cover letter, curriculum vitae, preprints/reprints, statement of research interest, statement of clinical interests and licensure or license-eligible status as a psychologist in the State of Colorado, and teaching interests and evidence of teaching effectiveness, on-line at: <https://jobs.colostate.edu/postings/17970>. Three referees should letters of recommendation directly to brad.conner@colostate.edu . Additional information about the application process can be found on the department website. Application materials of semifinalist candidates, including letters of reference, will be made available for review by the entire faculty of the Department of Psychology.

Colorado State University is an equal opportunity/equal access/affirmative action employer fully committed to achieving a diverse workforce and complies with all Federal and Colorado State laws, regulations, and executive orders regarding non-discrimination and affirmative action. To achieve that goal, we conduct background investigations for all final candidates being considered for employment. Background checks may include, but are not limited to, criminal history, national sex offender search and motor vehicle history.